STATE SENATE FAVORS PROBE OF PRISONS

Votes Not To Wait For Report From Commission

By Robert P. Howard
Associated Press Staff Writer
Springfield, Ill., Feb. 5.—(AP)—A legislative investigation of the entire Illinois prison system appeared certain tonight as an outgrowth of the razor slaying of Richard Loeb, thrill killer, in Joliet penitentiary.

The senate voted not to wait for the report of a commission of 16 invited by Governor Horner to inquire into charges of favoritism and prison laxity as a result of Loeb's death eight days ago.

In a rebellious mood, the senate by a 21 to 16 vote adopted a joint resolution to send five members of each house of the legislature to Joliet and Stateville prisons for a separate investigation.

Sull underway was the probe in charge of State's Attorney William R. McCabe of Joliet, who planned a grand jury investigation.

Sponsored by James O. Monroe of Collinsville, a Democratic opponent of the governor, it requires the concurrence of the house of representatives during the three special sessions now under way.

After arguing about politics, civil service among guards and reports of past investigations, the senate decided that the study of prison conditions should not be left solely to the commission of 16.

The fatal slaying of Loeb, co-slayer of Bobby Franks in 1934, was seized upon by foes of the governor as an opportunity to make a new political issue to impede his re-election.

Convict James Day's story of killing Loeb because of innocent advances also included many charges of lax discipline, favoritism and political influence.

If the house agrees to the legislative investigation, the commission cannot be appointed before the middle of next week.

Governor Horner, in the middle of a primary campaign against the Illinois Democratic organization and with three special sessions meeting concurrently at the capitol made no further comment about the charges and counter-charges. Several men have accepted his invitation to visit the prisons.

Monroe declared that, if he is the legislative chairman, he would be glad to cooperate with the governor's men and pointed out that they would not have the power to subpoena witnesses and take testimony under oath.

The senator from Joliet, Republican Richard J. Barr, was one of those who saw no need of duplicating probes and defended the two penitentiaries.

"It is remarkable that there are not more slayings and killings," he said. "We get the worst criminals in the world, because we are so close to Chicago."

ACCEPTS APPOINTMENT
Belleville, Ill., Feb. 5.—(AP)—Robert L. Kern, Belleville editor, today announced he had accepted appointment on Gov. Henry Horner's commission to investigate the state's prison system.

"I do so," he said, "with the intention of entering upon the duties with an open and unbiased mind. I hold no preconceived ideas relative to reforms in the Illinois penal system and I propose to arrive at conclusions only after a searching and impartial investigation of the facts."

1,500 Walk Out in Pekin, Ill., General Strike

Pickets are shown at the American Distilling Company plant in Pekin, Ill., Feb. 4, as their strike developed into a general strike by the action of other workmen of the city.

Gunfire Breaks Out at Pekin, Ill., Where Strike Has Paralyzed Commerce

Pekin, Ill., Feb. 5.—(AP)—Gunfire broke out tonight in the general strike which had paralyzed commerce in this community for 39 hours by midnight when Clarence Rupp, head of a cab service, was shot and critically wounded by unidentified assailants.

Rupp, whose cabs had been used to transport food to a few strike-bound employees in the plant of the American Distilling Company, was shot at the doorstep of his home by a gunman who cruised past in an automobile.

He was rushed to the Pekin hospital, suffering a bullet wound in his right chest. State's Attorney Nathan Elfriss said the snail was a direct outgrowth of the strike trouble. One of Rupp's cabs was overturned and burned and its driver was beaten by pickets Monday night.

Since early yesterday, however, Rupp had made no attempt to operate his cab service.

This community of 17,000 remained shut down to virtually all trade and commerce tonight after 1,500 union men had left their jobs and 600 more were preparing to walk out at 10 p. m. tomorrow from the Corn Products Refinery.

Rupp, 36-year-old head of the Pekin Brake and Motor Service company, returned from a visit in Peoria tonight and was about to enter his home when he was hailed from the passing automobile.

State's Attorney Elfriss said Rupp was shot at the summons and was shot down. Dr. L. F. Tefer said Rupp's condition was critical.

The decision of employees of the Corn Products Refining company to join the strike was reached tonight. It followed an unsuccessful effort of state officials and union leaders to settle the strike at the American Distilling company, which was one of the causes of the general walkout.

Adjournment of this conference in Peoria brought a new ultimatum from the general strike committee of the assembly.

Francis Mahoney, chairman of the committee, announced that even if the distillery strike were ended the general strike would continue until Chief of Police Harry Donahue was removed from office.

He said Pekin workmen held the chief responsible for the order to use tear gas against pickets at the distillery plant Monday, when two pitched battles brought six arrests.

Meanwhile, Martin Durkin, director of the State Department of Labor and Governor Henry Horner's representative in the peace negotiations, (Continued on Page Three)

Col. Frank Knox Makes Appeal For Party Harmony

Calls On Republicans To Forget Personal
Differences

Vincennes, Ind., Feb. 5.—(AP)—Col. Frank Knox, Chicago newspaper publisher, told a gathering of 1,200 republicans here tonight that he is in the G. O. P. presidential candidate picture "only at the request of my united party organization in Illinois."

Col. Knox has been mentioned frequently as a possible republican nominee for president. United States Senator William E. Borah of Idaho announced himself as a candidate yesterday.

"I am indifferent to what happens to me," Col. Knox said. "It is no time for the exploitation of personal ambitions."

He appealed for party harmony and called on republicans to forget their personal differences "for the sake of the nation."

Col. Knox charged the present democratic national administration with "bribery practiced in the name of humanity."

"Think of handing a man a relief check or a relief job or a corn-holover State or any other country."

Col. Knox urged the party to take the money but declared, "don't sell your souls to the devil at the same time."

SUBZERO COLD IS BLAMED FOR 50 FATALITIES

Warroad, Minn., Reports Temperature Of 48 Below

Chicago, Feb. 5.—(AP)—Sub-zero cold stabbed wide reaches of the northern states again today causing approximately fifty fatalities from the Rock-Island coast.

It scored a 48 below mark at Warroad, Minn., near the Canadian border, crippled highway and rail transportation in a half dozen midwestern states, knocked 40 degrees from thermometer readings generally, and swept into the east in full force tonight.

A 37 year old record was tied at Minneapolis where the mercury plunged down to 22 below at 6 a. m. to register under zero for the nineteenth consecutive day. Forecasters indicated the 1899 cold spell would be surpassed with Thursday's official temperature report.

Schools were closed in many communities. Fears for dwindling coal supplies increased as weathermen indicated that the Mackenzie Basin-born frigidly would probably continue through Friday — perhaps longer. Southern floods were congealed in the cold which blanketed the country except for parts of the extreme northwest, west and southern portions. Suffering of flood victims was halted.

Many trains were cancelled, halted or delayed in the snow buried heart of the cold empire—the Dakotas, Minnesota, Iowa, and Wisconsin. Eighty-nine passengers marooned on their train in Wisconsin, however, managed to make the occasion a holiday. Several trains between the Dakotas and the twin cities of Minnesota abandoned their schedules entirely. One train due in Minneapolis from Omaha at 8:01 a. m. Tuesday arrived more than 24 hours late. All trains into Chicago, except the "extra fare" passengers from the east, arrived from 15 minutes to as much as four hours behind time.

A blizzard raged in western Michigan.

Only slightly better than Warroad's minimum was that of Eveleth, Minn. There the mercury dropped to 47 below.

Other extreme readings, all minus zero, included: Hallock, Minn. 44; Grand Forks, N. D. 41; Watertown, N. D. 30; Milwaukee, 16; Iron Mountain, Mich. 33; Marshalltown, Ia. 32; and Chicago, 13.

Suburban Mundelein, Ill. reported 25 below.

BATTLES BREAK OVER ELECTION REFORM BILLS

Kelly-Nash Group Is Blocking Action, Claim

Springfield, Ill., Feb. 5.—(AP)—Conroversy over election reform bills broke out today as soon as the legislature opened its third concurrent special session to consider issues involving the Chicago democratic opponents of Governor Horner.

Republicans and administration democrats charged that Chicago Senators allied with the Kelly-Nash organization were blocking action by sending election bills to committee, contrary to the usual special session practice of dispensing with committee sessions.

Permanent registration bills did not appear in the Senate, where Thomas P. Gunning, Princeton republican, proposed a corrupt practices act to give publicity to campaign expenditures and a state-wide election commission with jurisdiction over all balloting.

Republicans in the past and administration democrats since the Horner-Kelly split have charged that fraudulent balloting has made it impossible to hold honest elections in Chicago.

Of permanent registration of voters, Mr. Horner in his message said: "It will have two beneficial results: It will discourage and lessen illegal voting and encourage qualified voters to cast their votes for the candidates and principles of their choice."

Bills also were introduced to strike at Mayor Kelly's control of the Chicago parks, consolidated earlier in the Horner administration.

"I do not believe," the governor said, "that the expenditures of the Chicago Park District should, in any event, exceed the total costs of the event, superseded park districts and I favor legislation which will prevent taxation and revenues beyond that amount."

Indications were that only perfunctory sessions would be held the rest of the week, postponing a show down on the campaign questions.

There was no controversy on labor bills to amend the occupational diseases act to correct unconstitutional sections, union and industrial bills having reached an advance agreement. These bills were introduced in both houses.

Several permanent registration bills were introduced in the House, one of them by E. S. Adamowski, Chicago democrat. All House bills were advanced to second reading.

House Of Commons Turns Down Plan For Peace Parley

Affirms Its Confidence The Government Will Promote Prosperity

By Oscar Leiding
Associated Press Foreign Staff
London, Feb. 5.—(AP)—The House of Commons turned down today a proposal to sponsor a new international peace conference, but affirmed its confidence the government will "take all practicable steps to promote international prosperity."

The suggestion for a peace round-table came on the motion of George Lansbury, 77-year-old Laborite, and was defeated 328 to 137.

An amendment proposed but kept the language of the original resolution on the "futility of war" and "grave concern of world-wide preparations for war" passed. The amendment was offered by Paul V. Emrys-Evans, Conservative.

Viscount Cranborne, parliamentary undersecretary for foreign affairs, said preliminary examination of the problem of an international conference already had been started, "but we cannot fix a date until circumstances favor further negotiation."

The last world economic conference, he said, was a failure because the world was not prepared for it. If another were called "it would be not only unfortunate but disastrous," he declared.

Cranborne asserted the government had no intention of "hanging the door" on the declaration of Sir Samuel Hoare, former foreign minister, at Geneva regarding collective examination of economic problems.

FILES DIVORCE SUIT

Chicago, Ill., Feb. 5.—(AP)—Ending a marriage which lasted three months, Mrs. Margaret Motter Scofield, 19, filed suit for divorce in superior court today against George Starr Scofield, Jr., of Geneseo, N. Y., son of the late New York attorney and clubman.

The bill against her 23 year old husband alleged cruelty.

Mrs. Scofield, daughter of a prominent St. Joseph, Mo., family, has been in Chicago for three years, studying art. She was married to Scofield while on an eastern vacation last Nov. 4th.

They parted, her bill set forth, after Scofield allegedly gave her a bloody nose and later hit her in the eye.

Scofield's father was widely known as attorney for the Port of New York.

House Overrides Horner's "Old Age Pension" Veto Under Avalanche of Votes

His Illness Creates Medical Dilemma

Reported to be suffering from a malignant tumor, the illness of Count Covadonga (above), son of former King Alfonso of Spain, presented a dilemma for Havana specialists. Because of hemophilia, an inherited blood condition which makes any wound dangerous, surgeons cannot operate to relieve him.

By Curtis R. Hay
Associated Press Staff Writer
Springfield, Ill., Feb. 5.—(AP)—Smashing the administration's wishes on the structure of the old age pension program, the House today buried Governor Horner's veto of the bill providing county "home rule" under an avalanche of votes.

By a vote of 123 to 10, a larger majority than that by which it originally passed the bill, the lower chamber sent the vetoed Lewis bill to the Senate. Speaker John P. Devine predicted that body would follow the House and approve the bill.

The move to override the veto had only 90 supporters at the start of the long debate, leaders disclosed rapidly, but it gained headway rapidly and finished in a "band wagon" spurt.

Some of the strongest supporters of state supervision of the program voted to override the veto, which was based on the provision for appointment of the county welfare boards by county judges, instead of the State Department of Welfare.

Devine and Thomas J. Lenane, Quincy democrat, author of the principal old age bill, were among those who refused to sustain the veto, explaining they were acting in the interests of age indigent persons and in an effort to hurry sine die adjournment.

"I'm not voting for Governor Horner or Mayor Edward J. Kelly or anyone else," Devine said. "I'm voting for the old folks of Illinois."

He referred to the remarks of Thomas J. Sinnott who voted ahead of him to sustain the veto. In an explanation of his vote, Sinnott, Rock Island democrat, declared:

"This attempt is based on politics. From the day that Dr. Herman Bunden of Chicago became a candidate for governor against Mr. Horner, the Chicago democrats in this House have worked with the republicans against the bill as originally written because they wanted to hurt the administration."

F. W. Lewis, Robinson democrat, author of the vetoed measure, joined Sinnott in urging to sustain the veto. He also raised the question of a political motive, but said:

Governor Horner was sincere in vetoing this bill. He honestly believed it in its present form would prevent the state from receiving federal assistance on its program. I support that view."

Washington, Feb. 5.—(AP)—The house tonight voted unanimously to abolish the Illinois emergency relief commission and passed two sets of bills to provide a permanent aid program.

The vote to abolish the IERC was 133 to 0, the same total by which the house also approved a measure to set up after May 1 a system of direct allocation of relief funds to counties on the basis of need.

For the remaining three months of the relief commissions life, the house passed a $7,500,000 appropriation, 116 to 6, to supplement relief funds from the sales tax. All three go to the senate.

Also passed by the house was all but one bill in the Hickman-Lantz-Pinn senate series to provide for a general three-mill tax levy throughout the state for pauper relief. The house held up action on one of the bills, however, until technical questions are worked out. This bill is the one that makes the tax compulsory.

The Hickman-Lantz-Pinn vote was 81 to 40. One of the bills goes back to the senate for concurrence.

The farm bloc drove through the senate's pauper relief bills without much debate. On a test vote last night the agricultural association bills received 74 votes and their passage was virtually conceded.

Rep. Benjamin S. Adamowski sought to halt their passage, citing amounts of money raised in Chicago for relief purposes as proof that Cook county does its share in raising aid funds.

Downstaters replied that their smaller cities also had "community chests" and paid state taxes proportionately equal to Chicago's.

G. O. P. Primary In Cook County To Be Legalized

Senator Earl B. Searcy Calls Matter To Attention Of His Colleagues

Springfield, Ill., Feb. 5.—(AP)—The senate became worried tonight about the possibility that a 1936 Republican primary in Cook county might not be legal. A bill was hurriedly drafted to correct the matter.

Earl B. Searcy, of Springfield, a Republican candidate for governor, called it to the attention of his colleagues.

The trouble goes back to the 1935 judicial election, when a coalition ticket was entered and technically there were no votes cast for Republicans.

Legal advice was summoned. The decision was for an amendment excepting judicial elections from the definition of what constitutes a general election.

The bill is to be rushed through the special sessions before the April 14 primary so as to remove all doubt about the right of Cook county Republicans to participate.

The Democrats co-operated. Senator William J. Connors, a Chicago Democrat, said:

"We're helping save the Republican party; we want opposition."

NEW FARM BILL TO BE OFFERED SENATE TODAY

AAA—Auxiliary Laws Are Repealed By House

Washington, Feb. 5.—(AP)—Farm-aid patchwork today brought a new AAA-substitute bill in the senate, an inconclusive white house tax conference, and house repeal—mid political fireworks—of three AAA-auxiliary laws.

The senate agriculture committee agreed unanimously late in the day upon a new farm measure which Chairman Smith (D. S. C.) said he would offer tomorrow, when immediate floor consideration of new farm legislation is expected.

It would permit states by legislative act to qualify as one for a part in the proposed permanent federal-state cooperative plan of soil conservation. Incorporating new measuring-rods for temporary two-year federal subsidies to farmers, and permitting administration by state agencies, Smith called it a "great improvement" over the Bankhead (D. Ala.) bill originally reported to the senate.

Cabinet members and other farm and fiscal aides departed tonight from their conference with President Roosevelt, except for the observation that the question of the new farm program was "still in the conversational stage."

The house voted 351 to 10 to repeal the Bankhead cotton control, the Kerr-Smith tobacco, and the potato control acts. An amendment intended to cancel taxes assessed under the Bankhead act but not paid requires return of the repealer to the senate for concurrence.

The entire nebulous question of federal revenues and spending held the cloistered capital attention, interwoven with the farm problem in these additional developments.

1. One capitol hill quarter reported word from Mr. Roosevelt that present plans do not contemplate a request for new taxes to pay the soldiers' bonus.

2. The house initiation bloc hunched its heralded drive seeking an early vote on the Patman (D. Tex.) currency expansion proposal.

3. Administration officials began a new study of next year's relief load to try to pare down the original estimated $2,000,000,000 cost.

4. Other agencies prepared for tomorrow's white house conference on curbing direct federal expenditures—a sequel to yesterday's inventory of appropriation authorizations which might be cancelled.

5. Senator Barbour (R. N. J.) said the white house "inventory" move proved a claim he expressed a month ago that bonus payment would "place the brakes" upon government spending.

6. Secretary Wallace told his press conference the administration would have a "very tight squeeze" in getting a cotton control program under way for this session unless congress acts soon.

Farmers To Keep Their Land Out Of Production

E. G. Thiem Says Farmers "Learned A Lot During 2 Years Of AAA"

Kansas City, Feb. 5.—(AP)—Farmers of wheat and corn states may take a tip from the invalidated AAA and continue to keep part of their land out of production, a survey indicated today.

In most states the farmers, under no obligation since the AAA was outlawed, have made no move to cultivate contracted acres pending a possible replacement program.

E. G. Thiem, spokesman for the Illinois Agricultural Association, said farmers "learned a lot during the two years of the AAA about the value of keeping production under control." He expressed belief they would "go along the same as they did under the AAA."

Many western Kansas farmers plan to continue the land in idleness, letting it summer fallow.

L. C. Williams, assistant director of the Kansas State College extension service, said the question of whether farmers, who have signed new contracts, could use the land depended on whether a new plan to pay them is devised. He added:

"If a method is provided to allow payments to farmers who have signed to reduce their wheat acreage five percent, it probably will be necessary that production on the adjustment be limited to a crop other than grain."

Iowa farmers interested in a new farm program were reported by agriculture officials to be holding up planting plans to see what is offered.

WILL ANSWER LATER

Bloomington, Ill., Feb. 5.—(AP)—Dr. Herman N. Bumgarner, of Chicago, handbaking in Bloomington late Wednesday in the course of a hurried goodwill tour of the state, declined to comment on a broadside fired by Gov. Henry Horner against his gubernatorial candidacy.

"This is not the time for me to raise controversial questions," he said. "Later I will answer such criticisms, of course."

AIR PASSENGERS

Chicago, Feb. 5.—(AP)—C. R. Smith, president of the American Airlines, Inc., announced today that the line carried 178,209 revenue passengers during 1935. He said the figure represented approximately one-fourth of the total revenue air passenger volume in the United States.

The purchases accounted for almost three-fourths of the total American sales of arms, ammunition, and implements of war to foreign countries under state department license during the first month of the year.

Smith said the business represented a gain of 11.7 per cent.

Regions of The Dead

Let's suppose the news of the nation were to contain the following bulletin: "Today the cities of Springfield and Jacksonville, Ill., and their suburban areas were stripped of all population. Every inhabitant of these two cities had died. The places are empty and silent."

That news would be startling, tragic, and would stir the entire nation and even the civilized world. But such a destruction of population actually occurred in the United States during the year 1935. Accidents took a toll of 99,000 persons killed, a number somewhat greater than the combined population of Springfield and Jacksonville.

Let's suppose the population of Morgan county, including that of our city, were wiped out in a single day. That would be terrible. Yet in the past year 36,400 people, a total slightly greater than the population of this county, were killed in motor traffic accidents.

We might also imagine the city of Youngstown, Ohio, a community more than three times the size of Peoria, as filled with permanently injured persons, people who are crippled for life, scarred and maimed in an insurable manner. In the past year 953,000 people were permanently injured in accidents in the United States.

But that is not all. We must now imagine the entire populations of Chicago, Philadelphia and St. Louis as consisting of persons temporarily injured in accidents last year. There were more than nine millions of them, people who were victims of accidents, largely due to carelessness.

This accidents checklist up a heavy toll in killed and wounded for this nation. But they also cost three billion dollars in property damage, medical bills, loss of wages, etc. We paid a fearful price for our accidents. Surely it is time we used greater caution and thought to be less indifferent to such a heavy toll. We can never tell who will be the next victim of our carelessness and recklessness.

War on Tetanus

From the Washington University in St. Louis comes announcement of the discovery of a new toxin to prevent the recurrence of tetanus. Antitoxin has been used to check the ravages of the disease or to prevent its first inception, but medical men have noted that those who have been thus treated may die of tetanus weeks or months after the original source of the disease is gone.

The antitoxin builds up body resistance to the disease, but tetanus spores sometimes linger in the tissues, and when the body resistance is lowered, attack the victim and do their worst. The new toxin is expected to overcome this danger by creating a permanent immunity in the body.

During the world war tetanus recurrence was checked among soldiers by the use of a similar toxin. This disease is caused by germs that attack the nerve centers and cause muscles to react so violently that the patient finally dies of sheer exhaustion. It is a most treacherous disease and its prevention and cure merit every effort and resource science can command.

In countries where agriculture is more intensive, tetanus is more prevalent. The infection is often caused by burns from fireworks. This is explained by the fact that these explosives are usually imported from China and are packed with clay containing tetanus spores, which infect the highly-fertilized soil of that populous country.

Inflation Looms

(Reprinted From the St. Louis Star Times, Feb. 4, 1936).

Out of Washington comes the rumbling of inflation like distant thunderclaps preceding a storm. The South Sea Islanders can tell if the early signs before a storm presage an ordinary blow or a hurricane. We wonder if the financial sagas can detect from present signs whether we are in for an ordinary financial flurry or a devastating storm of inflation.

The ground work for inflation has been laid and the barometer is low, but we still hope that out of the conflict and interplay of financial forces we can muddle through without the experience of debasing the currency, which all history tells us must end in disaster.

The Treasury of the United States is the strongest in the world, but it is being depleted at a rate so fast that it cannot be replenished by any honest means. Relief spending is only one of the major causes. Others include indirect expenditures, alleged but not proved, to have the effect of direct relief and increases in the regular budget items, such as Army, Navy and the departments. Social security, farm relief and the bonus are setting up vested interests which amount to pipelines from the treasury without shut-off valves. The flow will increase with the years.

Congress is responding to a POSITIVE pressure in voting these staggering sums and to a NEGATIVE pressure in refusing to vote the taxes to pay for them. Refusing the demands of special groups COSTS votes, and declining to vote taxes to pay for appropriations SAVES votes! Alongside of the Tomb of the Unknown Soldier should be put a Shrine to the Unknown Voter, where members of Congress could stop to worship on their way to the Capitol. Nothing is more apparent than that the actions of many members of Congress are measured by the effect on the vote, not on the ultimate good of the country.

The alternatives facing the country today are clear cut. Either drastically reduce government spending or take care of the future financing by resort to phoney money. Saying that printing press money can be used for bonus billions and after that everything will be all right is like an honorable man saying, "I will steal just this once and then I will stay honest." If Congress finds it can pay $2,250,000,000 to the veterans without added taxation simply by pressing the control button on the printing press, they will soon respond to the same pressure to care for old age pensions, farm subsidies or whatever vested interest is best organized at the moment. Then the vast treasury surplus will melt away as the snow under the warm sun.

Neither politicians nor crack-pot Pied Pipers shouting for panaceas seem to realize that, not the size of the surplus, but the speed of its disappearance is what really counts. The speedometers on this road to ruin are clicking it off at the present time with some such figures as these: $7,000 a minute; $420,000 an hour; $10,000,000 a day; $300,000,000 a month; $3,750,000,000 a year. These dizzy figures show that for practical purposes our treasury funds should be counted in time not money. So many dollars will last so many months. That would be the whole story, except for continued government borrowings.

How long can the borrowing continue? Until the banks can no longer buy the government U. S. U. S. And when will that be? No one knows exactly, but there have already been signs of financial reorganization as banks have tried to swallow the vast and frequent offerings. Whether the bonus and Security Act borrowings can be doled out without throwing them back on Washington remains to be seen.

There is the issue. It must be faced. Curb the excess spending or squander the country into squalor. Cease piling up an unpayable debt or—INFLATION LOOMS.

'Doctored' News

Foreign newspaper correspondents returning from Germany complain that it is becoming increasingly difficult to squeeze real news of the day out of Nazi Germany.

One American correspondent who had to travel to Copenhagen, Denmark, to file his dispatch, remarks that "newspapermen are feeling more and more the clutch of the kid glove of terror."

He reveals that 12 members of the Association of Foreign Correspondents, and many others who were not members, have been expelled from Germany, on the ground that their articles "were misleading and poisoned the international atmosphere."

It is a strange hold, strong-arm system possible only under a dictatorship. Americans have cause to be thankful that no such conditions exist here. Our freedom of the press becomes increasingly valuable as we view life in countries without it.

By RODNEY DUTCHER
(Journal-Courier, Washington Correspondent)

Washington—Higher income taxes on the well-to-do, federal inheritance taxes on the wealthy, and retroactive excess profits taxes on processors who have been receiving AAA taxes through the end of 1935 will be Roosevelt's answer to rising costs to the budget. Proposed new tax legislation, if administration plans are not revised, will call for a billion dollars or more of levies to meet costs of the new farm program, the bonus, and the return or withholding of processing taxes under the old AAA program.

Most sensational aspects of the plan are its "sunk the rich" phases and its objective of insuring lower prices for consumers by re-enactment of processing taxes at substantially lower rates.

Simultaneously, Roosevelt plans a belligerent counter-blow at backers of the American Liberty League and other wealthy groups which oppose him, an attractive alternative for the congressional inflationists and a gesture for millions of city consumers who have resented higher food prices.

Want to Raise Billion

The administration wants to raise about $500,000,000 to pay for its farm relief-soil conservation program for the next fiscal year.

It seeks nearly $300,000,000, with which to pay off moral obligations and liquidating expenses under the old AAA contract system.

It wants $250,000,000 to apply against extra bonus payment expenses of which $200,000,000 would be for this fiscal year and $160,000,000 for next year.

The latter figure would be an annual expense, due to immediate bonus payment, spread through until 1945, the date originally stipulated for maturity of bonus certificates.

How Tax Plan Would Work

Roughly, in round numbers and subject to revision, the administration plan for raising the money is about as follows:

1. An additional tax, perhaps as high as 10 per cent, on all individual unearned income above $10,000. This might bring in about $325,000,000 to the treasury.

2. Inheritance taxes at graduated rates on all inheritances of more than $40,000. The yield presumably would be somewhere near $200,000,000.

3. Processing taxes designed to raise about $350,000,000 instead of more than $300,000,000 as under the old AAA schedules. This is where the consumer theoretically would get a better break than under the former program. Tentatively, it has been proposed to cut the tax on hogs from $2.25 to 75 cents a hundredweight; the wheat tax from 30 to 20 cents; the cotton tax from 4.2 cents a pound to 2.8 cents; and the rice tax from 30 to 15 cents.

4. A special retroactive excess profits tax of 90 per cent or more, through which the treasury would seek to recapture perhaps $200,000,000 from processors who have had their impounded taxes refunded under the supreme court decision or who simply refused to pay.

The court handed back about $200,000,000.

Dance A. C. W. of A. Hall, No. Side Sq., Fri. Nite, Norvell's Orch. Adm. 25c.

000,000 of impounded taxes, and additional "delinquent" taxes up to the date of the devastating AAA decision amounted to more than $70,000,000. The administration is determined that big packers, millers, and other processors who passed the tax on to consumers while "little fellows" were paying their AAA taxes must not be given these bonanzas at the expense of the taxpayers who already have paid as consumers.

It proposes to apply the same tax to any refunds obtained through court action of the billion dollars in processing taxes actually paid. The tax may also be made applicable to millions of dollars in fees collected by lawyers who fought the processing taxes.

Lobby Is Forming
The principle of this retroactive tax is the same as that of the post-war tax which levied 80 per cent on profits from war contracts.

Already a lobby is forming here to represent interests which want to keep the nearly $300,000,000 of impounded and delinquent taxes, and, if possible, to get back their shares of the billion dollars paid.

If the administration pushes hard on the program herein outlined, a very dull session of Congress will become a lively one indeed. (Copyright, 1936, NEA Service, Inc.)

Woodworking Class Will Begin Today

WPA Sponsors Project in City; Make Appeal for Equipment

Handicraft projects are being developed as a part of the WPA recreation project sponsored by the State Department of Public Welfare under the direction of the local YMCA. The first of the groups open to the general public is to be held this evening at 7 o'clock when a class in woodworking and manual training will have its first session. This class, which will be somewhat limited in nature due to lack of equipment, will have as its first projects the making of simple furniture, bird houses, cutouts, book racks, etc., which will help in understanding the proper use and care of tools. It will be under the direction of Ray Spillman who is well known locally because of attractive lawn and garden furniture and equipment which he has been producing for some time.

Because of the fact that no funds are available for the purchase of equipment, an effort is being made to secure donations of tools, etc. A couple of work benches could be used to great advantage along with wood vises, chisels, coping saws, etc. A power jig-saw and sander has already been loaned for the project. Any persons having tools or equipment which they would be willing to give or loan are asked to phone the Y.M.C.A. office number 179.

Any men who are interested in participating in the woodworking project are invited to come to the Y.M.C.A. rooms, 423 West State street, this evening or to communicate with Fred Darr, director of the WPA project or with Mr. Spillman at the Y.M.C.A. office.

Three are Injured Near Aley as Car Skids on Icy Road

Mr. and Mrs. James Pope and Charlotte Blair Hurt in Accident Wednesday

Aley—Three residents of the Glasgow community were injured yesterday morning when the car in which they were riding skidded and overturned on the icy gravel road about a mile south of this place. Mr. and Mrs. James Pope of Glasgow were bringing their children to the Aley high school when the accident occurred.

Charlotte Blair, a high school student who was riding in with the family, sustained a fracture of the arm. She was attended by Dr. G. W. Bowman on reaching Aley.

Mrs. Pope suffered cuts on her head and one knee. Mr. Pope suffered from shock. Dr. O'Reilly of Winchester was summoned and gave the couple necessary medical attention. The others in the car escaped unhurt. The car was badly damaged.

The road between Aley and Glasgow is of gravel construction. The sleet and snow have turned it into a sheet of ice, on which driving is dangerous. The Pope machine skidded and turned turtle, going completely out of control.

WESTWARD HO

Inaugurating the first series of John Wayne westerns for the recently formed Republic Pictures, is "WESTWARD HO," a western picture with an epic theme, which opens Friday at the FOX MAJESTIC.

The new picture is John Wayne's twenty-first western production in the past three years. During this period he has risen from an unknown property man to the top ranks of western players and one of the best liked cowboy actors on the screen.

The plot of "Westward Ho" is a fragment from the history of the West, and tells of the onward movement of the new frontier from Dodge City, Kansas, to Grass Valley, California. The story covers a period of about fifteen years, and narrates the exploits of a band of roving vigilantes, headed by John Wayne, who bring law and order to the covered wagon trails.

John Wayne plays the role of the leader of the vigilantes, and his mission at the outset of the story is one of vengeance, coupled with a desire to find his brother, who has been kidnapped by desperadoes while he was still a child.

Appearing opposite Wayne, in the feminine role, is pretty Sheila Mahoney, a recent Columbia contract player. Others in the cast are Frank McGlynn, Jr., James Parley, Yakima Canutt, Essie Dume, Bradley Metcalf, Jack Curtis, Hank Bell, Mary McCallister, Dickie Jones and the "Wranglers," a famous radio team, which features cowboy songs.

Passes today at Fox Illinois for Miss Emma Thompson, 453 S. Clay. At Fox Majestic for Janette Vieira, 836 N. Church.

John W. Keogh
Found Insane
By Court Jury

72-Year Old Court Slayer
Was Found Sane By
First Jury

Chicago, Feb. 5.—(P)—The second jury to consider the question of John W. Keogh's mental condition today brought in a verdict of insanity for the 72-year-old courtroom slayer who killed in support of his conviction that the state's courts are sitting illegally.

The first jury to hear testimony in Keogh's case decided he was sane, although state alienists had pronounced him an incurable and dangerous paranoiac. The verdict was set aside.

Keogh shot Attorney Christopher G. Kinney to death in Judge John Prystalski's court Jan. 13, and aimed several bullets at the judge, one of which lodged in the arm of his chair.

A formerly wealthy real estate owner, Keogh followed his usual custom of acting as his own lawyer, and regarded the jury with a lecture on the topic with which the alienists said he was obsessed—redistributing of the state, and reappointment of the state in the legislature. At the time he killed Kinney, he said he had done so as "ballyhoo" for his political hobby. He told the jury:

"I think I acted as a clever, inventive lawyer. If that is paranoia more lawyers ought to have it."

The verdict of insanity was considered by Keogh as a setback for his cause, although it saved him from trial for murder and a possible death sentence. He said he wanted to be tried—for the sake of publicity. He made a motion for a new hearing which Judge Joseph Burke set for Feb. 17.

Gunfire Breaks Out at Pekin, Ill., Where Strike
Has Paralyzed Commerce

was hurrying from Peoria to the empty streets and closed business houses of Pekin.

Here it was believed he would confer with Mayor W. E. Schurman on the latest ultimatum of the laboring forces.

Only a few drug stores and filling stations remained open tonight in the face of the strike orders, and the drug stores were meeting only medical needs.

What activities continued had the sanction of the Trades and Labor Assembly, the body which called out 1,500 workmen yesterday. Milk deliveries were allowed, and restricted deliveries of fuel.

Streets were deserted. But few pickets were abroad in the biting cold and these outnumbered officers more than ten to one.

Tension tightened hourly after the ultimatum of the strikers—for shopowners to shut up or get their windows smashed—found 100 per cent compliance.

Sheriff Ralph Goar issued a request for National Guard aid—the first direct call for help the local authorities had made since the general strike flared. But there was no indication when the five companies of militia-men at Peoria, seven miles away, would move on the city. They were mobilized there yesterday in anticipation of disorders.

Despite protests to police, no apparent attempt was made to halt the roving bands of strikers which swept through the business district to order the doors closed. Two women were arrested but they were released after apologizing to the tradesmen they had allegedly intimidated with threats to "blow up" their places.

An hour before the 3 p. m. closing deadline for stores, the city was the center of a buying rush, reminiscent of Saturday night in prosperous times. From hundreds of homes and from the country-side around, families flocked in to lay in foodstuffs. Groceries, bakeries, meat shops, tobacconists, and cold weather clothing stores were swamped. Shelves were nearly depleted in the business district before the deadline.

Then promptly at 3 o'clock doors were locked, blinds drawn, and clerks sent home.

Signs quickly appeared on many store fronts:

"Union holiday—closed until further notice."

Meals—even a cup of coffee—became an unattainable luxury.

Delivery of coal was limited to one ton and to emergency cases only.

Production Credit
Group Holds Annual Meeting Wednesday

Stockholders Hear Talks by PCA Commissioner, Vice President of Body

The Jacksonville Production Credit Association, organized two years ago in December, held its annual stockholders' meeting yesterday afternoon at Grace M. E. church. The meeting followed a dinner at which about 150 persons were assembled.

Reports of the business of the association were given by its secretary, M. M. Want. Directors and officers were reelected for the ensuing year. Following the business session Commissioner S. A. Garwood of the Farm Credit Administration, and L. J. Norton, vice president of the Production Credit Corporation of St. Louis, addressed the stockholders on credit matters.

This organization is one of a group which composes one of the largest co-operative enterprises owned by farmers. It serves the territory of Morgan, Scott, Pike, Cass and Menard counties. It furnishes short time loans to farmers for their seasonal needs in the production of crops and the purchase of stock for breeding and feeding purposes. It is the farmers co-operative organization to meet his own credit needs.

Through its connection with the Federal Intermediate Credit Bank, it is able to furnish to every farmer whose financial statement will justify the extension of credit an unlimited supply of funds at the lowest possible interest rate.

The local association, while only two years old, has already proven its value to the farmers of this territory who have availed themselves of its services. The association has made 465 loans

Scientific Eye
Is Set On Trail
Of Common Cold

Evanston, Ill., Feb. 5.—(P)—A scientific eye which is blind to everything but the invisible rays that cause sunburn was set on the trail of the common cold tonight.

Its job will be to measure the intensity of ultra-violet rays which produce vitamin A, one of the prime factors in the body's resistance to colds.

The "eye" is a new type of photo-electric cell, developed by Prof. Robert Cashman, Northwestern University physicist. Its newness lies in the fact that it uses the element magnesium.

"Electric eyes" developed in the past were designed like radio tubes, and coated on the inside with colloids of alkali metals. They were sensitive visible range and the invisible infra-red to the entire light spectrum, both the red and ultra-violet.

The new "eye" looks like a miniature diver's helmet made of pure magnesium with a little round window in front. Inside the window is a tiny disc of nickel, to attract the electrons thrown off by the magnesium when the light rays strike.

The magnesium cell is blind to everything the human eye can see. It reacts only to the "therapeutic" band of invisible ultra-violet rays. This band, ranging from 2700 to 3300 angstroms, includes the rays that cause sunburn. The visible spectrum starts at 4000 angstroms.

The eye will be a watchdog of health in two directions:

Once it determines the intensity of the "therapeutic" rays, it can be used to test the efficiency of ultra-violet ray lamps.

On the same basis, it can tell food manufacturers how much irradiation is required to supply milk, cereals, etc., with the desired vitamin A content.

WILL START WORK

Alton, Ill., Feb. 5.—(P)—If the weather clears, work on the new scenic highway paralleling the Mississippi river between here and Grafton, Ill., will start Monday under a $2,500,000 WPA allotment.

Harry Ernest, WPA employment officer, said he had received instructions to certify 500 men from relief rolls to begin the project the first of next week.

The first group of workers will do preliminary clearance of the right of way. Ultimately, Ernest said, about 2,000 men will be employed on the highway.

100,000 Persons
In Demonstration Against Communism

Parade Thru Streets Of Monterey, Mexico, Wednesday

By Clark Lee
Associated Press Foreign Staff
Monterrey, Mexico, Feb. 5.—(P)—A crowd estimated at 100,000 persons paraded the streets of Monterey today in a huge demonstration against communism.

After commercial and industrial establishments closed for two days, residents of the city and delegations from the entire state of Nuevo Leon marched to the municipal palace with posters and banners attacking communist agitators.

The paraders pledged support to the central government. They carried Mexican flags and sang the national anthem along the line of march.

A group of 50 communists tore down one Mexican flag from a public building but students and others quickly restored the banner and forced the communists to disperse.

The demonstration today was in contrast to labor parades in Mexico City and elsewhere in the country recently where the marchers carried red and black "strike" flags.

Labor and capitalists united in their opposition here to what they termed "an open attempt by communists to establish a bolshevist dictatorship."

The movement was backed by 42 labor syndicates and virtually all professional and social organizations.

The leaders telegraphed "absolute support" to President Lazaro Cardenas.

Federal troops, held in barracks, were not called out.

China Gripped
By Snow, Ice

Shanghai, China, Feb. 6.—(Thursday)—China, from the Yangtze river to the north, was gripped today with snow and ice, as a result of the vast Oriental storm which also struck Japan.

Freezing dust from the Gobi desert blew in on a northwest gale.

The China coast, from the Hang-tung promontory northward, was ice-bound and covered with snow, and shipping was paralyzed.

The Gulf of Chihli was a vast ice-field in which many ships were locked and were in danger of being crushed. Conditions there were the worst in 50 years.

Arctic winds and heavy snow took a considerable toll of life in the nation's northern provinces, where dozens of beggars and other poor persons were dying daily.

73 Persons Dead
In Jap Blizzard

Tokyo, Feb. 6.—(Thursday)—(P)—Seventy-three persons were known dead in Japan today and 88 were feared lost at sea as the result of a two-day blizzard which swept over the center of the island.

It was thought the death list might be increased with word from isolated mountain villages to which communications were disrupted.

In the greatest of the disasters on land, a snowslide crushed seven buildings and killed 55 persons at Kusatsu, northwest of Tokyo.

Hope was abandoned for the Unnan Maru, a 200-ton freighter with a crew of 45, which sent out an SOS yesterday morning saying she was waterlogged and sinking. Two teams which fought their way to the Unnan's position found no trace of her.

Thirty fishermen were believed lost off Kobe.

And Mickey Mouse Cartoon Breaks Into Galleries of the Masters

The Jacksonville Art Association announces an exhibit of American water colors which will open Friday afternoon of this week at the Strawn Art Home on West College avenue. Between fifty and sixty line water color paintings, furnished through the College Art Association of New York, will be shown in the galleries.

Recognizing the cartoon as a work of art, the Association will present an exhibit of Walt Disney's Mickey Mouse in various poses and situations. This is probably the first time in history of the Jacksonville Art Association that such an attraction has been featured. But Mickey Mouse's art has opened up new fields, and now he finds himself alongside the paintings of the masters.

The water color and cartoon exhibit will remain here for ten days. The public is invited to view it.

Cold Weather Fails To Hamper Schools

Buildings Kept Warm During Subzero Wave; Attendance Holds Up Well

The school buildings of the city have been kept warm during the cold weather and there has been little discomfort on the part of teachers and students. Superintendent R. O. Stoops said yesterday. After the first hour of the morning sessions, the buildings have usually been up to normal in heat requirements. Coal supplies are ample, and the schools have been able to get coal as needed, though there was some anxiety last week when it was feared a coal shortage was imminent.

Janitors have been on the job faithfully and have worked long hours to keep buildings warm. The health of teachers has been good, and there have been few absences on account of illness and few substitutes needed. The pupil attendance has been good. On days when cold, ice, and snow compelled some students to remain out, the fear of exposure en route to and from school caused parents to keep their children home.

Once at school the children have been kept comfortable. In fact, the schools are probably better heated than many homes. The school work has proceeded without interruption in all departments and classes, despite the unusual run of subzero weather.

The only exception to this good record was the closing of Lafayette school for one day when it was necessary to repair the heating plant. The repairs were made at once and the school reopened the following morning.

I. S. D. Wins From Franklin As Two Crippled Teams Get Together

Fan Breezes By Ernest Savage

Hats off to Andy Chapman's gallant little basketball team.

Those Winchester Wildcats did something that a whole lot of other teams have been trying to do to the J. H. S. Crimsons all season long, and did it so effectively that the J. H. S. players had no comment to make after skidding their way back to Jacksonville.

The only thing the local boys had to say was that Winchester scored eight baskets out of the first ten shots. They had no squawk, except that they couldn't hit the hoop, and couldn't get the ball away from the Wildcats.

Coach Frank Walker, who was forced to get his account of the game second handed, because of his illness, remarked that he thought the experience was highly valuable. That's what he meant at least, when he said "It'll do 'em good."

There was no one trying to take any of the glory out of the Winchester victory. The Crimsons admitted they were licked and by a rattling good team—one that promises to make this regional tournament interesting.

There was one thing that came up in the preliminary game which has been causing a lot of trouble this year—and that is the proper method of handling overtime games. The rules provide that, unless there is an agreement to the "sudden death" means of ending a game, that up to two overtime periods may be played during which the winner will be the team scoring the most points during the game. Thus if a team is leading by a single point at the end of either the first or second overtime period, that team is the winner.

The Jacksonville seconds were entitled to a victory over the Winchester reserves by a single point margin under this ruling, claimed it, but went ahead and played another overtime period, in which they lost the decision.

The sudden death plan of ending a

Chapin Takes Place In Alsey Tourney

Eldred Withdraws When Three Players Are Lost To Squad

Alsey, Feb. 5.—Chapin high today accepted an invitation to play in the Alsey four team tournament to be held here Saturday taking the place left by Eldred's withdrawal. Pairings for the first round were made over again, bringing Alsey and Hillview together in the opening tilt at 2:30 Saturday afternoon, and Chapin and Kampsville will meet in the second game. Winners and losers meet Saturday night for the championship and consolation.

Eldred withdrew from the tournament when one of its players became ill with pneumonia, and two others were injured in an automobile accident.

The new pairing will pit the home team against the Tri-County champions, and the runners-up in the Greene county basketball tournament last week. Hillview, coached by Archie Collins, already has two victories over Alsey this year.

Knee Length Pants Were "Indecent"

Milwaukee, Wis., Feb. 5.—(P)—Knee length pants for basketball players were regarded as "indecent" three decades ago, Coach William S. Chandler of Marquette University learned today.

As national chairman of the National fund campaign, Chandler has picked up many stories of the early days of the game, but the strangest of all he said originated in Bloomington, Ill.

Wheaton College's cagers invaded Bloomington 30 years ago for a game with Normal, and spectators were scandalized when the collegians went through an afternoon practice in knee-length trunks.

Chandler said the Normal president sent a note stating the night's game would be called off unless the Wheaton team wore clad in long trousers. Hard pressed, the athletes cleaned out the stock of a Bloomington store and appeared that night in overalls.

Gold Shipments To Europe Halt

Washington, Feb. 5.—(P)—With the franchise generally below the point of profitable export, a halt came today in the two-day exodus of the metal from American shores.

The treasury stood by throughout the day to grant a license to any who desired to ship bullion cheaper than exchange, but no applications were received.

Marking the first reversal of the inward flow since September, 1934, the last two days had seen $15,668,000 bullion export. Most of the shipments were consigned to France.

Neither President Roosevelt nor his aides displayed any concern over the exports. The president told his press conference yesterday the loss would do this country no harm.

One treasury official contended this country "had gained a whole shipload of gold while losing only a rowboat full since revaluation; that while 15 tons has been exported in the last two days, there still remained an abundant supply of 10,176 tons."

BEARDSTOWN MAN PASSES AWAY HERE

Fred Kricke, 79, of Beardstown passed away at a local hospital Wednesday night at 8 o'clock, death being attributed to tuberculosis. The body was removed to Beardstown last night and final rites will be held in that city today.

JUDGES WILL MEET

Chicago, Feb. 5.—(P)—County and probate judges of Illinois will meet here from Thursday until Saturday in the 34th annual convention of their association.

Judge Ray Sessler, Pontiac, president of the group, said today he had arranged an extensive program, including visits to the Cook county and Chicago Municipal courts.

Speakers will include Judge John J. Massieon, Ottawa; Judge Charles W. Webster, Urbana; and Maurice E. Barnes, Havana. Judge Everett Lewis, of Benton, will preside over a business session Saturday morning.

HUMAN BLOOD

Chicago, Feb. 5.—(P)—Dr. Virgil Gant, coroner's chemist, reported tonight the stains on a hat found in the automobile of Harry H. Wells, missing Monroe, Wis. business man, were made by human blood.

Federal authorities have joined with the police of Illinois and Wisconsin in the search for Wells, believed to have disappeared here Jan. 29, carrying $12,000.

Wells, before he left home, hinted to his family he was the victim of blackmailers, and expressed determination to settle with them on his trip to Chicago. One theory is that he was kidnapped.

N. Y. Delegation To Cleveland To Be Uninstructed

Announcement By Borah Has Stirred GOP Leaders

Albany, N. Y., Feb. 5.—(P)—Senator William E. Borah's announced intention to campaign for the republican presidential nomination stirred New York state G. O. P. leaders tonight as the time drew nearer for selection of delegates to the national convention in Cleveland.

Although the Idaho liberal republican confined his announcement to a decision to campaign for delegates in Ohio, party leaders believed ultimately he would enter the race in this state, which controls 90 delegates.

Melvin C. Eaton, republican state chairman, said:

"The announcement of Senator Borah will in no way change the definite determination that republican delegates to the national convention from New York State will go to Cleveland entirely uninstructed."

"I presume his announcement will soon be followed by that of other outstanding republicans who have been mentioned as presidential timber from time to time."

Speculation has developed over published reports that leaders from four Eastern States met at Philadelphia last week and decided to support Governor Alf M. Landon of Kansas for the G. O. P. presidential nomination and Representative James W. Wadsworth of New York for vice-president. Eaton denied any knowledge of the meeting.

Favorites Advance In Golf Tourney

Coral Gables, Fla., Feb. 5.—(P)—With 17 year old Patty Berg showing the way, favorites advanced unscathed today in the first match play round of the Miami Biltmore women's golf tournament.

Despite her protestation she "just couldn't get the feel of the game," the red haired Minneapolis school girl played exemplary golf in defeating Mrs. Blanche Fitzgibbon, of New York, 7 and 6.

Four over women's par for the outgoing nine, Patty finished in a flurry of birdies, snaring two on the final three holes. Mrs. Fitzgibbon, who qualified with 98, could not cope with the medalist's long drives.

Statuesque Jean Bauer, of Providence, R. I., the winner last year, disposed of Mrs. Lawrence Schwab, of New York, 7 and 5.

Miami's own veteran linkswoman, Maurine O'Neill, defeated Mrs. Guy Butler, of Atlanta, 7 and 5.

Mrs. Opal S. Hill, of Kansas City, Mo., another of the nation's top flight feminine golfers, won a one-sided victory over Mrs. Harriet Masury, Flushing, L. I., defeating her 8 and 7.

Pretty Allamie Williams, of Chicago, runner-up with Mrs. Crews to Miss Berg in the medal round yesterday, played her usually steady game to trounce Mrs. John Arends, of Detroit, by a 7 and 5 tally.

Broken Leg Removes Rajski For Remainder of Season; Flashes Lose 3 With Mumps

Two Sadly Crippled Basketball Teams Put Up a Hard Fought Battle on the Illinois School for the Deaf Court Last Night, the I. S. D. Tigers, without Rajski and Wildrich, tumbled Franklin, who were playing without Oxley and Rawlings, 30 to 17. Things that happened off the court played a big part in the game, but the remnants of the two regular outfits put up a spirited battle all the way.

The Tigers, using their own floor to gain a big advantage, took a lead at the start and were never headed, although Franklin hung on dangerously close through the first quarter. Both teams were off form in shooting up to the final quarter, the Tigers finally beginning to hit first, and Franklin flipping in points rapidly during the last three minutes.

The Tigers lost Rajski, regular forward, during the Tuesday night practice session when he had a leg broken. He was removed to the I. S. D. hospital where he will be forced to remain for about six weeks. He will be unable to compete for the remainder of the season. Both bones in his ankle were broken when he hit the floor after attempting a shot for a basket.

Wildrich became ineligible Saturday night because of eight semesters of competition. Often, who took Rajski's place, tossed in five goals to lighten the loss, while Dhondt, who took Wildrich's place as a floor guard, turned in a neat exhibition.

Franklin appeared to be far off form in shooting, having scored only eight points up to the middle of the last quarter. Then they began finding the range and with a series of quick baskets piled up nine more points. Rawlings has been out of the mumps since the Ashland tournament, and Oxley fell ill with the same malady this week. Tranberger, a guard, also is down with the mumps.

Injecting speed into the game from the start the Tigers took a 5 to 3 lead in the first quarter, and worked hard to get a 13 to 6 lead at the end of the first half. They moved their lead ahead two points in the third period, which ended 17 to 8, and then began hitting the hoop to run up a 28 to 8 count before Franklin found the iron.

In a preliminary, the I. S. D. reserves won from the Franklin reserve 44 to 10

Level Two Way Drive On Kelly

Asks Enactment of Permanent Registration, Curtailed Expenditures of Park Districts in Third Special Session.

SENDS HIS MESSAGE

Springfield, Ill. — (AP) — Governor Horner today made a double attack upon the Kelly-Nash Democratic organization as he called the legislature into its third special session.

The "honest elections" issue was raised as the assembly was asked to require the permanent registration of voters in Chicago, where the Democratic leaders have refused to support the governor's second term campaign.

Mr. Horner also asked for a curb on "excessive and unnecessary" expenditures by the Chicago consolidated park district, which is controlled by Mayor Edward J. Kelly.

The third special session, opening at noon today, is to run concurrently with the long drawn out first and second sessions on social security and unemployment relief.

The governor's message today to the third session made no direct reference to the political situation, but said election laws should be revised to protect the right of suffrage and "insure the executive of the will of the electorate."

Unless elections are honestly conducted to prevent frauds, the will of one person or of a few is substituted in place of the majority," the governor said.

Permanent registration, Mr. Horner declared, would "discourage and lessen illegal voting and encourage qualified electors to cast their votes for the candidates and principles of their choice."

The governor also said the primary law should be amended to remove all question about the right of Republicans to hold a 1936 primary in Cook county, where they supported a Democratic coalition ticket in the last judicial election.

Mr. Horner said he permitted pegged levy tax bills for the Chicago park district to become a law, but urged legislative action if local governments fail to curb unnecessary expenditures.

"I do not believe that the expenditures of the Chicago park district should, in any event, exceed the total costs of the superseded park districts and I favor legislation which will prevent taxation and revenues beyond that amount," the message continued.

The governor said representatives of labor and employers have agreed upon bills for the safeguard of workers.

Washington, D. C. — (AP) — Repeal of the Bankhead cotton, Kerr Tobacco, and Warren potato control acts was approved today by the House agriculture committee. The Senate has already passed similar legislation requested by President Roosevelt.

The House committee added a provision to Chairman Jones' (D. Tex.) repeal bill to authorize the release of all cotton held under the Bankhead act on which the tax has been fixed but not paid.

Searcy Leads Move To Reduce G.O.P. Candidates at Meet

Hope to Center Support on One Man Against Small and C. W. Brooks

Springfield, Ill. — (AP) — Self-elimination from the April primary was sought today by some of the downstate Republican candidates for governor.

Senator Earl B. Searcy of Springfield said he and some of the other candidates had virtually agreed to meet this week in an effort to center their support behind one man, who would oppose former Governor Len Small, C. Wayland Brooks and others who insisted on staying in the race.

The Republican senate leader said tentative acceptance of the plan to reduce the field had been made by three other candidates. John G. Oglesby of Elkhart, Oscar E. Carlstrom of Aledo and J. Paul Kuhn of Batavia. Overtures are being made to other gubernatorial aspirants, including Walter M. Froyne of Taylorville and George W. Dowell of DuQuoin.

The movement toward self-elimination grew out of the "harmony" conference Monday of downstate county chairmen, at which supporters of Brooks obtained unanimous adoption of a resolution for a wide-open primary.

Searcy said that, if possible, the candidates would try to agree that only one of them would stay in the race.

If that is impossible, he advocated that all withdraw and support a new man. In this connection, mention has been made of the name of Col. George G. Seaman of Taylorville, a member of the "harmony" committee who has declined to enter the race.

"I feel that success of the Republican party makes it vital that we present a united front and keep the control downstate, where the party has its greatest strength," Searcy said.

Three days before the time for filing of nomination petitions, the GOP has nine candidates for governor, with several more interested but unannounced.

In 1932, the Republican primary was "wide open," with eight candidates for governor. Carlstrom withdrew in 1928 to make a two-man race.

Washington, D. C. — (AP) — Escaping the higher gift taxes which became effective the first of the year, more than 200 executives of corporations "saved money" by giving it away in the last days of 1935.

Securities valued at approximately $20,000,000 were taxed as gifts in December under the old schedule. This brought to $85,000,000 the total of such gifts recorded since March by the securities commission.

The biggest gift recorded was that of Walter P. Chrysler, automobile maker—40,000 shares of Chrysler common with a current market value of about $3,800,000.

The amount of that gift has been credited only by the $27,000,000 one recorded by John D. Rockefeller Jr. last June.

Cyrus H. McCormick of Chicago was near the top in December with a gift of 24,000 of International Harvester common, valued at $1,580,000.

Washington, D. C. — (AP) — The Associated Press index of electric power production, with 1929-30 taken as 100, advanced for the week ended Feb. 1 to 105.7 from 105.2 the previous week indicating a contra-seasonal gain.

A year ago the index stood at 98.3 the range of recent years follows:

1936	105.7	105.5	97.4	91.9
Low	104.3	94.1	91.9	80.2

The Edison Electric Institute reported an output of 1,962,827,000 kilowatt hours for the week ended Feb. 1, an increase of 4 of 1 per cent as compared with the previous week and an increase of 11.4 per cent over the corresponding week last year.

For the week ended Jan. 25 the output was 9.8 per cent ahead of the like figure a year ago.

Gains were reported from all the major geographic regions. Percentage advances included: Central Industrial 10.5.

Local Red Cross Chapter Plans New First Aid Program

Provides Service For Road Accident Victims In County

The American Red Cross, through its chapters throughout the United States is initiating a new safety and first aid program on the highway. The highway first aid station program will form one of the principal programs of the Morgan County Chapter. The victims of road accidents are reaching an alarming total each year. In 1934, 36,000 persons were killed upon the highways of the United States, and of the 1,235,000 who were injured, 105,000 were permanently crippled. The American Red Cross out of its experience of many years knows that with proper immediate first aid care many of the lives lost might be saved and the suffering and further serious results to others greatly reduced. Most accidents happen where it is not possible to obtain the services of a physician at once. Intelligent first aid care saves lives and puts the victims into the hands of the medical profession with a much better chance for satisfactory recovery than otherwise.

Existing facilities are to be utilized for the establishment of highway first aid stations by the chapter, gasoline filling stations, wayside stores, tourist homes, etc., available telephone service always being considered essential. A preliminary survey by the chapter committee on first aid will determine the most feasible and needed locations. Personnel of these stations will be trained in first aid, taking the American Red Cross standard course. Approved stations will be equipped with a first aid kit, one half-ring splint for leg fractures, ready reference telephone directory of medical, hospital and ambulance services available, and two highway station available. The station will be under the direct supervision of the chapter committee, and definite standards maintained.

R. E. Gillette, field representative of the National organization is assisting the committee in making preliminary preparations incident to the establishment of the stations. Mr. Gillette said it must be definitely understood with all concerned that Red Cross First Aid is in no sense to take the place of medical care. It is a volunteer service rendered as neighbor to neighbor in an emergency. In every instance the person suffering an injury should be advised to obtain medical attention. No recompense may be received by anyone giving first aid, nor may donations be received by any one in this connection at the station or elsewhere. The Red Cross is assuming no financial responsibility in this new program, outside of training the volunteer station operators, equipping them with necessary first aid equipment, and maintaining that equipment. This program is designed primarily to combat the ever increasing death rate due to accidents, as in many instances first aid treatment on the scene will save human life and prevent human misery. Mr. Gillette said that too often well meaning travelers pick the accident victims up, put them in their cars and take them to a hospital or physician's office. This is the natural thing to do, but often the wrong thing to do as compound fractures often result through lack of first aid treatment on the scene.

The Morgan County Chapter of the American Red Cross will participate in this program, selecting stations according to the standards as set up by the national organizations. A committee will be appointed by the chapter chairman, Gus Bergquist, to survey the county, select the stations, train the personnel and establish the stations. This committee will regularly inspect the stations, seeing that standards are met and adhered to at all times.

Soil Conservation Is Discussed At Lions Club Meet

H. L. Buckhardt Speaks At Wednesday Night Session

H. L. Buckhardt, a leader in the soil conservation program from the two-club last evening at their meeting in the Peacock Inn, on "Coordination of the Soil Conservation Program." Mr. Buckhardt is in Jacksonville for the conference on the subject in Progress at the Farm Bureau.

He was introduced by E. R. Franklin, chairman of the program committee.

Conservation of the soil was described by the speaker as the perfect program for saving farm land from becoming worthless or nearly so. However he pointed out that the theory of this reclamation had to meet the practical needs of the farmer who was forced to make a living from the land, and who either could not understand the feasibility of the program or would not immediately reverse the past teachings of older methods of agriculture.

The soil in danger of erosion is principally attacked by water seeking its own level, and washing valuable soil from the hills and upper slopes to the valleys. Eventually the inferior subsoil will also follow the gullies and cover the now rich bottom land. The CCC camps are carrying out a program to combat this tendency with the terracing of endangered rolling or hilly land. Another method is the strip system of cultivation with the grassy crops planted on the high levels to check water, and sowing of seed according to the contour of the land instead of straight rows.

Mr. Buckhardt exhibited a map of Illinois with eroded areas and conservation stations. This state, ordinarily thought of as a rich corn belt region with little worthless land, has 4500 square miles fit only for the planting of timber. In many instances it has been the wholesale cutting down of timber, the greatest crime on the agricultural list, that has made these acres little more than a desert. Timber, pasture and some orchard crops can be placed on 4,500 more square miles of damaged land, while 19,700 square miles is harmfully eroded but now under cultivation.
